CRISIS IN GERMANY.

Chancellor Caprivi Will Soon Resign.

TIRED OF HOLDING OFFICE.

A Rumor That He and the Emperor Have Had a Quarrel—The Latter Anxious for a War, While the Chancellor Desires Peace—Other Foreign News.

BERLIN, Nov. 27.—A decided sensation was caused here yesterday by the announcement that Chancellor Von Caprivi will, in all probability, soon resign the chancellorship of the German empire.

This unexpected news was circulated by The Wochenblatt, a newspaper edited by Deputy Arendt. The Wochenblatt, in announcing the approaching retirement of the chancellor, says, in explanation, that the latter is weary of holding office and this fact has caused him to arrive at the decision referred to.

It is inferred that the retirement of Chancellor Von Caprivi is not definitely decided upon, but that it is among the strong probabilities. The chancellor's enemies, so soon as it gained circulation, started the report that Caprivi had a serious misunderstanding and that he has adopted the Bismarckian tactics of threatening to resign unless he has his own way.

They add that he will find "Young William" will not stand any such bluffing, and that Von Caprivi must remember that though he has been "high favorite," he is far from being the historical personage Prince Bismarck was and still is, in spite of everything.

Of course, coupled with this rumor is the report that, should Von Caprivi retire, Prince Bismarck may be recalled to power.

It is regarded as somewhat strange that the report of the German chancellor's retirement should be circulated just at the time M. De Giers, the Russian minister of affairs, is said to have "cemented the friendship existing between Russia and Germany."

The news has caused a number of sensational reports to be placed in circulation. Among them are that the chancellor and the young emperor have had a serious disagreement in regard to M. De Giers' visit, and that the latter addressed the chancellor in very warm and not highly complimentary terms. The chancellor is said to have resented this treatment to the extent of informing his majesty that he could no longer, without lowering himself in his own estimation, continue to hold the office of chancellor.

The whole trouble, it is claimed, arose out of the chancellor's desire for peace and the emperor's comment upon the manner in which he was willing to stoop to attain this object.

The emperor, it is added, is undoubtedly anxious not to be compelled to declare war with either Russia or France; but, it is added, he would dearly like to have either of these countries attack Germany or so humiliate her as to cause a popular feeling which would enable the emperor to carry out the desire of his life, that of leading the armies of Germany in triumph, against the enemies of his country.

The chancellor's efforts to curb the young monarch are, finally, said to have resulted in the present state of "strained relations."

STOLEN WOMEN.

Thousands of Them Carried Off by the Kurds of Armenia.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 27.—An earnest appeal has been presented to the Armenian patriarch to use his influence in behalf of the Christian women and girls of Armenia, who are being carried off in large numbers by the Kurds. It appears that women are scarce among the wild tribesmen, who, when they want wives, swoop down on some Armenian neighborhood, and bear away all the good looking young women they can find, thus leaving to the Armenian young men only the less attractive. In several instances the Kurds have broken in on wedding parties, and carried the bride off from the feast or church. It is believed that the Kurd tribesmen must nearly all have Armenian wives, judging from the number stolen, although it is also intimated that they dispose of the surplus at a fair market price for the sheiks and Persian harems.

The Turkish authorities are accused of encouraging the Kurds in their lawlessness, and instead of trying to catch and punish the raiders, they arrest and imprison the Armenians who resist them. One Armenian father at Sivas, blessed with four daughters, went to the wali to ask for protection, as he feared a visit from the Kurds, and was immediately seized and kept in prison for a week. When he was released his daughters were gone, whether taken by the Turks or Kurds he could not discover. Hence the appeal to the patriarch, whom the Armenians expect to help them by his influence with the porte. The patriarch, whether he is afraid of the Turks or not, as some of his enemies charge, takes but a languid interest in the subject.

Germany Preparing for War.

BERLIN, Nov. 27.—In the navy estimates for 1892 provision is made for an annual addition to the navy of 2,218 men, exclusive of marines, the first levy to join their ships in April, 1893, and the term of service to be twelve years. Thus upwards of 20,000 men will be gradually added to the effective strength of the navy, more than doubling the present war strength. The torpedo corps will be strengthened by 750 men. The estimates also provide that 1,800 officers and chief mates shall be gradually added to the navy, beginning in April, 1892. The warships now afloat have only about one-third of their full complement of soldiers, and there are not enough engineers to put them on a war footing.

The proposed reinforcements are considered necessary in view of the state of preparation of the French fleet, the Cherbourg division of which can be sent out fully equipped on twenty-four hours' notice and twenty-four hours later might attack Wilhelmshaven.

A Number of Lives Lost in a Wreck.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 27.—An accident, attended with many deaths is reported as having occurred on the railway between Orel and Griassowetz, in northern Russia. It appears that, owing to the breaking of a tire, a train became derailed at the bridge which crosses the River Optoukha. The engine, followed by the carriages, plunged along, tearing up the track and breaking through the parapet of the bridge. Fire carriages in all fell from the bridge to the ice-covered river, and breaking through the ice were submerged with their passengers in the chilling waters beneath. Owing to the fact that the accident occurred in a desolate section of the country, where officials are few and the population scarce, there was but little help for the injured, except as such as could be by those who had escaped injury. From one of the lost carriages only one person was rescued. Up to the present twenty-six corpses have been recovered, and many more are supposed to be under the ice. Fifteen persons were injured.

Insurrection in China.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—The Chronicle's correspondent at Tien-Tsin says: "The outbreak in the north, briefly described as a raid of Mongolian robbers, proves to be an insurrection movement of serious dimensions. Dispatches received today state that in Mongolia and some northern districts nearer the capital the revolutionary feeling is becoming alarming. An insurgent force, consisting of several squadrons of Mongolian cavalry besides infantry is reported to be advancing on Peking, where the utmost alarm prevails."

Queen Victoria Listens to Italian Opera.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—Signor Lago's Royal Italian Opera company, which is performing at the Shaftesbury theater, gave Mascagni's popular opera, "Cavalleria Rusticana," yesterday afternoon at Windsor Castle, "by command" of the queen, and thus for the first time in thirty years her majesty heard an Italian opera.

Emigration Congress.

PARIS, Nov. 27.—There was a large attendance yesterday at the Hotel Des Societes Savantes, the occasion being the second day's session of the international emigration conference. Among those present were fifteen consuls who took part in the discussion of the question of consular intervention in emigration.

Railroad Collision.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—A dispatch from Birmingham says that a serious railroad collision has taken place near there. An express train has collided with a freight train. A number of people were seriously wounded, but none killed. A number of doctors have started from Birmingham to the scene.

Wheat for Rye.

BERLIN, Nov. 27.—The North German Gazette considers that Germany is not menaced by the dearth of breadstuffs. It adds, however, that the short yield of rye may necessitate a restriction of the consumption of that grain and the replacing of rye products by an extended use of wheat.

Seven People Drowned.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—A dispatch from Shields says that the barque Georgetown, of that place, has been wrecked off the Faroe island. Seven of the crew were drowned.

GRANT MONUMENT ASSOCIATION.

Ex-Mayor Grace Will Have Nothing More to Do with It.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The friction which has existed in the Grant Monument association for some time has culminated in the sudden resignation of ex-Mayor Grace, as president, and his withdrawal from all connection with the association. This step was taken by Mr. Grace on Nov. 14, and it has been a well-kept secret up to this time.

The immediate reason for ex-Mayor Grace's resignation is the action of the executive committee, of which Ben Collins is chairman, and Mr. Grace, ex-officio, the head, as president. In the latter part of October business took Mr. Grace to Washington. He was aware that an important meeting of the executive committee would be held during his absence, and on inquiry he learned, to his surprise that it was proposed to elect by this committee certain new members of the association. He protested against it by letter, but during his absence the committee, in spite of his protests, acted as it proposed to do.

The affair has caused a great deal of surprise, as Mr. Grace is the man whose official action, when mayor, created what has become the Grant Monument association, and who has been ever since very prominently identified with it.

Eight Business Blocks Burned.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Nov. 27.—A fire that broke out in the American House stables, at 12:30 Thursday morning, destroyed eight business blocks and the Congregationalist church. Loss, over $100,000; with a great amount of insurance.

Great Game of Foot Ball.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Over 30,000 people witnessed a game of foot ball between the Yale and Princeton college crews yesterday afternoon. The game was very exciting and resulted in a score of 19 to 0 in favor of Yale.

SWIFT RETRIBUTION.

THE ONE THAT UNDOED HIS WORK.

Dr. Craigen, the Maryland Physician That Cut the Stitches in a Wound He Had Sewed Up Because He Was Not Paid, Now Sorry for His Rash and Barbarous Act.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Retribution, swift and severe, has come to the Maryland doctor who a few days ago cut the stitches with which he had sewed up an angry wound in a man's leg, because, after the operation, the patient did not pay for the professional services rendered. Dr. Craigen was the physician of Allegheny county, Md., in which the city of Cumberland is situated. He seems to have been a sort of Poo-Bah in that country, for besides having been at one and the same time the physician in charge of the jail, the alms-house and the insane asylum, he was also the secretary of the United States pension board of examining physicians for that district.

Punishment was made of the fact that friends had carried a wounded man to the office of Dr. Craigen, and he, after dressing the wound, put several stitches in it and then demanded $3 as his pay; that the parties were surprised; that they had supposed that, as he was the county physician, there would be no charges; that the doctor told them if they did not pay him he would undo his work; that the men insisted they were penniless, and that the doctor thereupon deliberately cut the stitches, thus undoing the work, and remarking that he didn't intend to do that kind of work for nothing. Indignant parties here brought this case to the attention of the pension bureau.

A telegram was immediately sent to the mayor of Cumberland asking him if the published charges against Dr. Craigen were true. The mayor replied that in all respects the published statement was correct. Upon receipt of that reply the pension office forwarded a letter to Dr. Craigen dismissing him from the position he had held as secretary to the board of pension examining physicians at Cumberland. Almost simultaneously with this action by the authorities in Washington city, the authorities of Allegheny county, Maryland, dismissed him from the several public offices he had held, and the State Medical association expelled him from membership.

Dr. Craigen has been here endeavoring to induce the pension bureau to recall its order of dismissal and to reinstate him in office. He does not deny, but, on the contrary, he admits that he cut the stitches as charged. He defends his action by asserting that the wounded man had plenty of money in his pockets and was abundantly able to pay for the professional services rendered. The patient having refused to pay he cut the stitches he had put in to close a gaping wound.

DEAD FASTER'S RECORD.

Believed to Have Been the Man That Stole Charlie Ross.

CORTLAND, N. Y., Nov. 27.—A peculiar story is told by Sheriff Northwick, relative to H. George Stratton, who died in New York while trying to beat Succi's fasting record. He says that Stratton had adopted a boy supposing him to be Charlie Ross. The sheriff and Charlie Ross' father corresponded with Stratton for a year regarding the boy. The sheriff got a clew as to where Stratton was living, and the latter learning of it sent the boy to Denver. He admitted that he had adopted the boy, but would say nothing further about it.

Stratton was married and his wife lives in Minnesota. Many years ago she refused to live with him while he had the boy in the house. The boy told the sheriff many things and Stratton's death may help to unravel the mystery, which has so long surrounded the boy. He is known here as Fred Stratton. Stratton always refused to say where he got the boy. The sheriff has many letters from Ross' father and he will continue the investigation as to who the boy is.

HUNG UP BY THE THUMBS.

A Brutal Husband Nearly Kills His Wife and Child.

WELLSTON, O., Nov. 27.—At 2 o'clock Wednesday morning the people who reside in the neighborhood of West Broadway were startled by screams. They were located in the house occupied by the family of Julius Boswecke. The husband was drunk and beating his wife. He had driven a large staple in the overhead ceiling and through it a rope was slipped. He had tied together the thumbs of his wife and would draw her up and down.

The woman had a little babe in her arms, trying to save its life. The husband, with boot-jack in hand, used it on his wife. At her screams he would abuse her the more, threatening to kill both her and the baby. The citizens broke in the door and rescued the woman. At the onset, the man showed fight, producing a huge knife and a double-barreled shotgun. He soon cowed down, and at the first opportunity slipped through a side door.

Slayed With a Revolver.

OMAHA, Nov. 27.—Clara Heath, an eleven-year-old boy, found an old revolver in the cellar of his father's house and began playing with it. Katie Gleason, a young lady, happened to be passing, and the boy pointed the revolver at her, pulling the trigger. As usual it was loaded and the bullet put out her left eye and fractured the frontal bone. She will recover.

MEXICO'S GUERRILLAS.

General Garcia Deals Vigorously With the Soldiers.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A special to The World from Rio Grande City, Tex., says: Intelligence just received here from Mier, Mex., states that General Nelves Hernandez and command were ordered into that city Tuesday by General Lorenzo Garcia and General Hernandez at once was placed under arrest by General Garcia, who the same day started the prisoner to the City of Mexico under a strong escort.

It is also reported that the officers of General Hernandez's regiment were deprived of their arms at the same time, as a sequel to the finding of the murdered Castillo brothers, in the Rio Grande river, Nov. 21. Taymon Saenes, Santiago Pano, Ricardo Lopez and Pedro Vasquez passed through Camargo under military arrest, on their way to Matamoros.

They belonged to the State Rangers, and are said to have been with the Castillo brothers when they were murdered. The district judge came to Raynosa from Matamoros immediately after the prisoners reached the former place, and after a short lapse of time Lopez and Vasquez were shot to death near Reynosa by a squad of soldiers.

DYNAMITE IN A TRUNK.

It Gets the Best of a Young Man Who Handed It Roughly.

MARIETTA, O., Nov. 27.—Wednesday morning, when the southbound Cleveland and Marietta train reached Cambridge, a Hungarian got on, putting his trunk in the baggage car. He was destined to go to Byesville, to work in the mines. The Hungarian got off, and the express messenger, Charles Deeren, placed the trunk in the car door, when the Byesville operator, a young man by the name of Archer, pulled it out of the door. One end struck the platform, and an explosion followed.

When the smoke cleared away it was found that Archer had been seriously injured. His eyes were blown, and his face and head badly injured. He was taken home, and will likely die. Others were thrown about at the will of the terrible explosive, which was either dynamite or giant powder. The Hungarian was at once sought for, but could not be found. All possible efforts to arrest him are being made. It is a penitentiary offense for a man to carry explosives.

SHOT BY HIS STEPDAUGHTER.

Two Girls Wreak Vengeance on the Man That Married Their Mother.

SHAWNEETOWN, Ills., Nov. 27.—John Norris was shot and otherwise hurt on Tuesday by his stepdaughters, Caroline and Belle Forrester, six miles west of this city, in Saline Mines township. A week ago Norris married the mother of those girls, they being bitterly opposed to the match.

Norris was a mile from home, feeding stock, when the girls made their appearance. He says that Caroline seized him and called upon Belle to shoot. She drew a revolver and fired. He fell, and she fired three more shots. One bullet hit him in the face, and two others entered the back of his head. He says that Caroline then beat him with a piece of rail and left him for dead, but upon regaining consciousness he walked to the house of a neighbor half a mile away and now lies in a critical condition. The doctor says he cannot recover. The girls have fled. The family is well known, and the affair caused a sensation throughout the county.

OPIUM SMUGGLING.

Indications That There is a Ring Which Carries on Extensive Operations.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—The Chronicle says Bloom and Douglass, the two Australian refugees, whose arrival at Honolulu on the Beagle created such a stir, are known to have joined the great opium smugglers' ring. Discoveries so far show the existence of an extensive organization headed by the notorious Tom Whaley.

A small squadron of vessels are engaged in the traffic. Many of the coast freighters which are not subject to customs inspection are in league with smugglers, transshipping the drug at sea, and landing it with little risk of detection. The Beagle is the best vessel the smugglers have, being too well armed to be captured except by a man-of-war.

Murdered with a Butcher's Cleaver.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A shocking and mysterious murder marked the advent of Thanksgiving Eve. Robert Lyons, a butcher, twenty-eight, was killed in his shop, 154 Cherry street, and with his last breath he accused his friend, Michael Sliney, of the deed. He had been killed by a blow from his own butcher's cleaver, which had cut a deep gash through his skull back of his right ear. Sliney, on hearing of the accusation, gave himself up to the police. He denies any knowledge of the crime. No motive can be found for the murder.

A Booming River.

CHILLICOTHE, O., Nov. 27.—The severe storms of rain and snow of the past few days have caused a big rise in the Scioto river, which has overflowed its banks and submerged the lower lands. The Circleville and London turnpike, the principal thoroughfare coming into the city from the west, is covered with a foot and a half of water for a distance of a mile, and heavy traffic with that part of the country is practically suspended. The river is still rising slowly.

Railroads Blocked with Snow.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 27.—Special reports from Minnesota and the Dakotas indicate that a heavy snow fell between 10 a. m. and midnight last night. It began to drift, and railway traffic has been considerably delayed north and west, where the snow is nearly a foot deep, but it is expected all trains will be running on time again in the next twelve hours.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & McCARTHY,
Proprietors.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1891.

If Senator Gorman has any Presidential aspirations, the support of the New York Sun will soon ruin them.

If Chester and Maysville vote against consolidation to-morrow, the proposition can be submitted to the people again at any time the Councils may see fit to do so.

The disclosures of the late grand jury at Mt. Olivet very plainly indicate that most of the officials of Robertson County have forgotten that they are servants of the people. The whole set of them ought to be fired from their positions. The grand jury should have indicted every one who has failed to attend properly to his office and its duties.

The citizens of Front street, and especially the ladies are jointly incensed at the C. and O. railroad authorities, for blocking their street with an unsightly freight train. It has been there for nearly three days, and for the last month or two, trains have been sidetracked for hours at a time on Front street, and it looks as if the authorities intended it as a side track, though they have abundant side tracks at other places. Inasmuch as the Front street citizens have yielded to the running of trains faster than the law permits, it does seem that the railroad authorities should have some respect for the citizens' right of view, air and beauty. When the matter was named to one railroad official, he said the engine for the train was needed at another point, and that they could not afford to side track a coal train in the suburbs for fear the coal would be stolen. The citizens are thus made guardians of coal trains, and seem to have no redress.

"PAUPER COUNTIES."

The State Auditor's Report Furnishes Some Interesting Facts and Figures.

"Only four Republican counties in Kentucky pay into the State treasury more money than they draw out. These are Bell, Boyle, Garrard and Christian," says a writer in the Courier-Journal, and he then proceeds to give some other interesting facts on this point that Republicans will not relish. He says: "The Republican counties in Kentucky have a total population of 455,911, a little less than one-fourth the total population of the State. They paid into the State treasury last year $381,173.92, and drew out $926,574.52. That is, it cost the Democratic part of the State $245,436.60 last year to support 39 Republican counties. No wonder Republicanism is not popular in Kentucky. It is too expensive a luxury.

"With a little less than one-fourth the total population of the State the Republican counties pay only about one-seventh of the State revenue, though they do not fail to maintain their proper ratio of expense, being responsible for a little more than one-fourth the total.

"Of the thirty-nine counties which pay a net revenue into the State treasury, thirty-five are Democratic counties, and upon them falls the burden of carrying this Republican deficit.

"These facts are a clear and powerful commentary upon Republican local management.

"Nineteen of the thirty-nine revenue-paying counties are Bluegrass counties, showing that if that favored section does ask for a great deal it also shoulders its share of the burdens. Only Owen, Montgomery and Anderson, among the counties usually classed in the Bluegrass region, fail to pay a net revenue.

"A line drawn from the mouth of Salt river, the western limit of Jefferson County, to the southeastern corner of Lincoln County, and from that point to the Ohio river, a little east of Maysville, would include thirty-seven counties, taking in all of what is usually meant by Central Kentucky. Of these thirty-seven counties, twenty-nine pay a net revenue into the State treasury, leaving ten revenue-paying counties distributed among the remaining twenty-eight counties in the State. The aggregate net revenue to the State treasury from all the counties in the State is $337,281.71, and these twenty-nine counties included in the above boundary make up $270,115.80 of it, leaving $67,165.92 contributed by the ten revenue-paying counties in the rest of the State."

"Sixteenth Kentucky" Re-union.

The re-union of the Sixteenth Kentucky and survivors of the battle of Franklin will take place next Monday at Joseph Heiser Post's headquarters, this city. All contributions should be sent to the Cox Building by Thursday, November 26th. Major General J. D. Cox, of Cincinnati, will be present, and General E. H. Hobson, of Greensburg, Ky., is expected also.

MISS KACKLEY.

The Sweet Singer Receives an Ovation at the Opera House Last Night.

The Hoosier Post Divides the Honors of the Evening—They Delight a Splendid Audience.

It was a magnificent audience that assembled at the opera house last evening, and no crowd was ever more charmed and delighted.

The people went expecting a musical and literary treat, and none came away disappointed.

Miss Margaret Reid Kackley, the gifted lyric soprano, received a grand ovation. Her first selection was an air from "Hamlet," and ere she had half completed the number the audience broke out in rapturous applause. The unrestrained expressions of delight were repeated at the close of the piece, and the house resounded again with applause. The talented little artist responded to the encore, and the audience were moved to tears as the notes of "Home, Sweet Home" fell from her lips. The exquisitely sympathetic quality of her voice was finely brought out in this piece, and the familiar song never sounded sweeter. The air from "Hamlet" displayed the wonderful compass of her voice, its perfect modulation, its pure, clear, flute-like quality. When she sang the "Shadow Song," from "Dinorah," she was recalled twice, responding to enthusiastic encores.

Miss Kackley wore a pretty costume of real lace, a present from the famous Garcia family. Miss Berry, as pianist, sustained the high reputation she has won, rendering the accompaniments in true artistic manner.

The "Hoosier Post," James Whitcomb Riley, divided the honors of the evening with the sweet little singer. It is doubtful whether America has a more gifted person to-day than this man. As the Atlanta Constitution remarked, "he is not only poet and humorist, but he is a most versatile actor." His selections last night were principally of a humorous character. Before he had finished the first he had won his way into the hearts of his hearers. The sketches were from real life, and the characters were personified by the poet who had portrayed them in verse. His impersonation of the good-natured man "who always has a funny story to tell," and of the little boy "who makes up his story as he tells it," were vividly realistic, and convulsed the audience with laughter. "Tradin' Joe's" story of his courtship was another fine selection. Mr. Riley was recalled time and again, the audience never tiring of listening to his quaint recitations.

The entertainment was a grand success in every respect. It was a deserved tribute to Kentucky's gifted lyric soprano and Indiana's famous poet and humorist. The audience was the largest and one of the most select ever in Washington Opera House.

For the Farmer.

An Ohio Judge has decided that the dehorning of cattle was not only useless, but brutal and inhuman, as the animals suffered the most excruciating pain.

According to the Register, Lehman & Bro., have bought in Madison this season 933 head of export cattle that weighed from 1,500 to 1,820 pounds, at from $5 to $5.25.

The London quotation for choice American cattle is now twelve and a half cents. One year ago it was eleven and one half cents and two years ago ten and one-half cents.

The Sugar Bowl places the Louisiana cane sugar crop for 1890-91 at 190,000 tons, against 128,000 tons the preceding year. The total beet sugar crop of the world is estimated at 3,669,000 tons; the total cane crop of the world at 2,320,000 tons.

Keep the potatoes in a dry, dark, cool place, and place the seed intended for next year's crop in a separate place from the potatoes intended for use. Examine the seed and throw out any tubers indicating the slightest trace of disease.—Exchange.

Religious News.

There have been 30 additions to the new Bethel Baptist Church this fall.

The spire of the new South Methodist Church at Danville, will be over 120 feet high.

The protracted meeting held by Elder Bartholomew, at Lexington, closed with 38 additions.

Elder Tharp, of Carlisle, closed a meeting at Hustonville Christian Church with 40 additions.

There have been 10 additions to the South M. E. Church, at Paris, during the meeting now in progress.

The meeting conducted at Elizaville, Nicholas County, by Drs. Scudder and Guerrant closed with 16 additions to the Presbyterian Church.

Railway News.

The local freight business on the C. and O. has increased so that it is found necessary to put on an extra train which will double the road between Stone City and Russell and do the necessary work on Kinney and Indian Run branches.

Superintendent Boughton, of the C. and O. Railway, has issued a bulletin complimenting employees interested on the skillful and careful methods adopted by those in train and station service, because of which fewer train accidents occurred during the months of September and October than during any previous like period.

An Old Teacher and Preacher Suicides.

Rev. Ezra Marsh Boring committed suicide a few days since, by hanging himself, at Evanston, a suburb of Chicago. He was about eighty years of age, and was the oldest Methodist minister in the Northwest. Years ago the deceased taught school at Franklin Seminary, near Fern Leaf.

For several weeks old age and ill-health had made him despondent and he had several times threatened to take his life. Two weeks ago he tried to kill himself, but was prevented by friends. Saturday night, November 21st, his dead body was found in an attic, where he had committed suicide by hanging.

FRANKFORT, November 16, 1891.—The game law is now out. Sportsmen in high glee. Their happiness will be much more complete by taking advantage of the new invention, "The Magazine Cartridge Vest." SARDIS.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Sutt, after a six-weeks' visit among the latter's relatives in Pennsylvania and Washington, D. C., returned to their village home Tuesday at noon. They made the trip from Washington to Maysville in 14 hours by the C. and O.'s last express.

The remains of Mr. Abraham S. Wright were interred at Shannon cemetery Saturday, Nov. 21st, at 12 o'clock. He was a native of Saratoga, N. Y., born 1837, once resided at Indianapolis, and was a citizen of Sardis, where he died, for several years. He was a soldier in the late war, from Massachusetts, and his pension papers were received by the evening's mail of the day of his burial. Rev. R. H. Wightman pronounced the funeral discourse, founding his remarks on 5th chapter, 24th and 29th verses of St. John. A competent critic said to the writer, "I wish you could have heard our young pastor—he did so well." The deceased was a Presbyterian in his faith, and a quiet, orderly, moral, good citizen. He leaves as his widow a most exemplary and business-like woman, formerly Miss Sue Andrews, one of our most popular teachers. Mr. Joseph Wright, an only brother, of Indianapolis, came in to the funeral.

FOULLY MURDERED.

Ezekiel Martin, a Prominent Trader and Farmer,

FOUND DEAD IN ABERDEEN.

Particulars of the Sensational Tragedy as Far as Learned at a Late Hour.

Ezekiel Martin, a prominent farmer and stock dealer of Brown County, O., was found cold in death on the steps of the Ennis House at Aberdeen this morning.

It was 5 o'clock when Walter Sibbalds and a man named King made the discovery and the news spread like wildfire.

A bullet-hole in the upper lip directly on a line with the nose and another in the throat almost on a direct line with the first told of the terrible death the man had suffered.

From all the developments up to a late hour this morning there is no question that Martin was foully murdered.

An Aberdeen gentleman who attended the entertainment in this city last night reached home just before 12 o'clock. He had been in the house only about five minutes when the stillness of midnight was broken by four shots that rang out on the air. There were two in quick succession and then after an interval of a few minutes two more. The gentleman paid but little attention to the matter at the time, but remembered them at once when he learned the news of the discovery this morning.

Upon investigation, traces of blood were discovered leading out Main street, from the hotel steps to a point near Squire Beasley's residence. It is evident that Martin, after receiving his death wound, had walked or had been carried to the place where the body was found.

Captain Heflin was called in the case early this morning, and some startling developments are expected. Arthur Power is suspected as the murderer. He has been an engineer on the ferry-boat Gretna Green for some time, but this morning he failed to report for duty. He is not to be found in Aberdeen, and it is thought he has fled the country.

Power and Martin had a quarrel over some woman three weeks ago, and this it is thought led to last night's tragedy.

Martin was unmarried and about forty years of age. He lived four or five miles back of Aberdeen, and was one of the successful farmers and stock dealers of Brown County.

Power and Martin were seen together on the streets of Aberdeen last night.

The inquest was held at a later hour this morning and the result will be given to-morrow.

Stable Burned.

The alarm of fire at 7:30 o'clock last evening was caused by the burning of a stable at the home of Mr. W. H. Yancey on the Fleming pike. The building was entirely destroyed. It is not known how the fire started. Mr. Yancey had $200 insurance on the property, but this will not cover the loss. His residence was in some danger for a while, but men got on the roof and prevented the flames from spreading to it.

"A Bunch of Keys."

This is one of the best of the many light and amusing farces which bear Mr. Hoyt's name, and is capitably acted by a company of clever performers. New songs, new medleys, new gags, new business and new lines give a freshness to the performance, and those who have seen the piece will find much in it to entertain and interest them. Miss Ada Bothner makes a lively and pleasing "Teddy," Leo Harrison makes a great success as "Grimes," W. C. Croshie's "Snags" is a capital piece of light comedy acting. The rest of the company contribute much to the pleasure of the performance. On the whole, the piece has never been better given, and those who enjoy a hearty laugh will do well to see "A Bunch of Keys" to-morrow night. Tickets on sale at Nelson's.

MINER'S MAXIMS.

There Are Thanks to be Taken as Well as to be Given-- Take Ours as a Poor Acknowledgement of Your Many Favors.

Nothing is cheap that you run a risk in wearing; nothing is cheap that gives you perfect protection. For dry and comfortable feet, thanks are never out of order; an unprotected foot has much to complain about.

As a matter of fact, it costs infinitely less to buy a good Shoe than it does to wear a bad one. There is a big difference in price and the difference is all in favor of a good Shoe. Perhaps you can not tell exactly what this difference is, estimated in dollars and cents, but take our word for it, it is a big difference.

How do we figure it out? Nothing can be easier. Is there anything in the world that can compensate you for what you endure in a wrong kind of Shoe? Don't exasperation, disgust and disappointment count for something? Between the right kind and wrong kind there is a gulf as deep as the deep, deep sea, and between the right and wrong no level-headed purchaser will hesitate in choosing.

What we say for our Shoes before you wear them you will unquestionably say for them after you have worn them. A case that is overstated is damaged. Take our word or take your own experience—the result will be the same; you will get both shoes and satisfaction.

FIRE DESTRUCTION.

Philadelphia Visited by a Destructive Blaze.

FOUR FIREMEN BADLY INJURED.

Caught by a Falling Wall They Miraculously Escape a Horrible Death—Pittsburg Suffers a Heavy Loss—Dry Goods Damaged in New York.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 27.—The large bag manufactory of Peter Young, 808, 810 Swanson street was totally destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. The loss will reach $50,000. While playing on the fire four firemen were caught by a falling wall and were badly injured. Their names are: Barney Barro, of Engine No. 11, leg broken; William Vansciver, foreman of Engine 18, painful injuries of the foot, and Abe Lang foreman of Engine 17, ankle fractured. When the wall was first seen to topple George Crilly, of Engine 17, was in such a position that escape was impossible. He lay flat down, and almost miraculously escaped death, receiving only bodily contusions. All of the injured were taken to the hospital.

Car Burns Burned.
PITTSBURG, Nov. 27.—The Second Avenue Passenger Railway company's car barn, at Glenwood, was burned at 1:30 yesterday morning. Twenty-five electric cars and the building were totally burned. Loss, $95,000; insurance about one-half.

Dry Goods Destroyed.
NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Fire last night damaged the five-story block, 5 Lispenard street, and its contents, $50,000. The building was occupied by various small dry goods concerns.

TRIED TO KILL HIS WIFE.
Brutal Husband Locked Up in the Pittsburgh Police Court.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 27.—Frank Stevenson was committed yesterday, charged with trying to kill his wife. He is twenty-three years old and the woman forty-five. They were married last spring, and Stevenson, it is said, at once demanded that his wife turn over to him considerable property which she held in her own right. She refused, and her husband began to abuse her cruelly. He beat her, carried off everything valuable in the house and appropriated all the money that came to his wife.

The man began walling up the space under the stairway, and his wife asked him what it was for. "That is your tomb," he replied. "I intend to kill you and place your body there. What I want is your money. The terror-stricken woman attempted to escape, when Stevenson hid all her clothing, leaving her only a night dress to wear. He choked and beat her until her body was covered with bruises, and broke her arm. As she still refused to surrender her property Stevenson brought a revolver and knife to the house. He sharpened the knife in her presence, telling her he proposed to kill her, as he wished to enjoy her money unmolested. Last Monday Mrs. Stevenson broke down under her treatment, and promised to sign over everything to her husband. He went to find a lawyer and during his absence one of Mrs. Stevenson's woman friends obtained entrance to the house and learned the condition of affairs. Stevenson returned suddenly and was greatly enraged. He assaulted his wife and knocked the visitor down, but the latter escaped and found a policeman. Mrs. Stevenson was rescued, and her husband, who was armed with his revolver and knife, was overcome by strategy and arrested.

GOVERNOR HOVEY BURIED.
Last Sad Rites Paid to the Dead Governor.

MOUNT VERNON, Ind., Nov. 27.—The funeral of Governor Hovey took place here yesterday. The remains were placed in the rotunda of the court house, at 8 o'clock in the morning, lying in state until 11:30.

The regular services were held in the court room at 2 p. m. Governor Ira P. Chase delivered a very able sermon.

All of the state officers were here and many other prominent men, including ex-Governors Gray and Porter and Senator Turpie. At the grave Governor Chase delivered another short address and was followed by ex-Governor Porter and ex-Governor Gray, both of whom spoke eloquent words. The Grand Army ceremonies were performed, and thus ended the last and tribute to our illustrious dead statesman.

BURNED BY BENZINE.
A Woman and Child Receive Probably Fatal Injuries.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Minnie Hoffman and her two-year-old son, Willie, were probably fatally burned last night in a paint store owned by the woman's husband, Charles Hoffman. Hoffman had gone out, leaving the store in charge of his wife. A customer came in to buy some benzine. Mrs. Hoffman stood close to a lighted gas jet in measuring the benzine.

The vapors ignited and an explosion followed, setting the woman's clothes on fire and also the shop. The woman picked up her child and ran from the store enveloped in flames from head to foot. A fireman threw a blanket around the couple and extinguished the flames, but mother and child were by this time badly burned. They were taken to a hospital in a critical condition.

Inhaled Natural Gas.
LAFAYETTE, Ind., Nov. 27.—Miss Ellen Finnegan, aged seventy-five years, and nephew, Patrick Marrin, residing on Wabash avenue, were found unconscious Wednesday from the effect of inhaling natural gas, which escaped from the stove. Miss Finnegan will die, and Marrin is in a critical condition.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 27.—Miss Martha Jones, aged fourteen, was assaulted by a burly brute, who would have accomplished his purpose if her faithful dog had not pitched into the fellow.

YACHT CAPSIZED.

Six Men Thrown Into the Cold Water but Five of Them Rescued.

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—Six men battling for life in the waters of the lake off the lake front was the sight which horrified people on the lake front, who chanced to be gazing lakeward, shortly before 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Of the six men four are alive and two dead. The dead are:

Charles Emrich, forty-six years old, died while being taken to the county hospital.

John Emrich, son of Charles, nineteen years old. His body not yet recovered. Those who survive are: D. H. Montgomery, Charles Lombard, J. Kelly and George Davis.

The yacht White Cloud, owned by D. H. Montgomery, made her trial trip yesterday afternoon. When about a quarter of a mile off shore, and while Montgomery was making a tack, a sudden gust of wind capsized the yacht, precipitating Montgomery and his friends into the water. Captain Napier, of the tug Fashion, saw the accident, and hastening to the capsized yacht, rescued the five men. Charles Emrich, however, was so exhausted from the shock and exposure that he died while being taken to the hospital. The body of his son Charles has not yet been recovered.

Charles Lombard, one of the rescued, tells the following story of the combat in the water: "I swam to the boat, and was about pulling myself up so as to get astride the keel when two of the other men grabbed me and pulled me back into the water, and all three of us sank down several feet. They clung to me like mad men, and I was forced to fight them. I struck Kelly in the face and he let go, but I had fairly to pound Davis, who by this time had me around the neck.

"The moment Kelly's hold was loosened he used all his remaining strength to seize the boat and pull himself up. Davis, when I had made him let go, sank, but as he rose I seized him by the collar and hauled him to the boat and passed him up. In the meantime Montgomery had secured a place on the hull, but Emrich seized him by the leg, and in the struggle which followed, both sank back into the water. Kelly and I managed to seize them as they came up, and all of us were astride the keel. The tug Fashion then came up and took us on board. The younger Emrich we never saw after the yacht went over."

NEWFOUNDLAND BAIT ACT.

The Dominion Government Declares the Law Unconstitutional.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A special to The Mail and Express from Ottawa says the Dominion government is advised that the law officers of the imperial government have declared the Newfoundland bait act to be unconstitutional. Canada and Newfoundland, it has been proposed shall submit a joint case to the imperial privy council, if Newfoundland refuses the British authorities, can nevertheless make the reference under an imperial statute.

The obnoxious bait act was passed by the Newfoundland legislature in 1899. It prohibits the sale of fresh fish, which includes bait to foreign fishermen. The act was allowed by the imperial government, on the condition that its provisions would not apply to Canadians. Subsequently, however, the Newfoundland authorities rescinded this concession, and only gave the privilege to American fishermen.

Canada's influence in securing the prohibition of the reciprocity treaty, negotiated between the United States and the colony, is given as the reason for this hostile act. At present the extensive carrying trade in frozen herring, which under the bait act comes under the category of bait, is monopolized by American bottoms.

REUNITED.

Slaves of Over Forty Years Ago Meet and Will Be Remarried.

CARROLLTON, Ky., Nov. 27.—Alexander Foley, of Natchez, Miss., a former slave, arrived here a few days ago to visit Dr. Goslie, who used to be his old master. His surprise could be imagined when he was told by Dr. Goslie that his wife who was sold from him forty years ago, was living in Carrollton.

Mr. Foley told the following story: He had not been married long when his wife was sold and taken south, while he was sold to parties who took him further north. Neither could read or write, and as years rolled by he naturally thought that his wife died. Both, it develops, remarried, he settling in Virginia, while the wife settled in this city.

Foley's second wife died a few years ago, as did his first wife's husband.

Foley says divine providence brought them together, and he made himself known. His wife recognized him at once, and he took his Thanksgiving dinner with his spouse of ante-bellum times. The couple will be reunited in a few days.

The Baltimore Ordered Home.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A special to The Herald from Washington says orders will be sent shortly from the navy department to Captain Schley, of the Baltimore, now stationed at Valparaiso, to proceed north with his vessel immediately upon the arrival of the Yorktown. The latter vessel will probably reach Valparaiso about Dec. 1. This decision to hurry the Baltimore north is the result of a telegram received from Captain Schley a couple of days ago, calling attention to the serious condition of the bottom of that vessel.

Strike Declared.

ZANESVILLE, O., Nov. 27.—William Weihe, president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers, was in the city last night to adjust the difficulty between the association and the Ohio Iron company. No agreement was reached, and a strike is now formally declared.

Another Mound Skeleton.

HANDEN JUNCTION, O., Nov. 27.—At the Roscoe mound, located three miles east of here, workmen Wednesday unearthed a huge skeleton, measuring nearly seven feet. The skeleton was inclosed in a copper covering.
